

MDA and DigitalGlobe combine to create Maxar Technologies, a leader in space technology

Maxar Technologies (formerly MacDonald, Dettwiler and Associates Ltd.) is a leading global provider of advanced space technology solutions for commercial and government markets including satellites, Earth imagery, geospatial data and analytics.

As a trusted partner, Maxar Technologies provides unmatched end-to-end systems capabilities and integrated solutions expertise to anticipate and address our customers most complex mission critical challenges.

With more than 6,500 employees in 21 locations, the Maxar Technologies portfolio of commercial space brands include: SSL, MDA, DigitalGlobe and Radiant. Every day millions of people rely on Maxar Technologies to communicate, share information and data, and deliver insights that empower a better world.